Good morning Murray,

Did you have snow? so far we have escaped but it has been very cold in Norwich. I was in London on Wednesday afternoon and it was really chilly walking through Covent Garden.

The tree in the photograph dates from 2013 when we did have rather too much snow, what lies beneath is the local golf course.

This photograph is available to buy on the website, just click on the image to be taken to the webpage. As always other sizes and finishes are available, please get in touch with your requirements.

If you haven't yet watched the wild Hamsters please click on the link to The Journal. The Hamsters start at 6 mins in and last for 3 mins only. They are very entertaining and it's a lovely video..

If you are enjoying The Monday Picture please share it with your friends, this is the link they can use to sign up.

Until next Monday have a great week

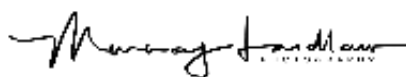

Very best wishes,
