

Click to enlarge

Monday 5th August 2024

Website

Good morning,
Where did July go?

Welcome to August and an image from the website, this week a Rose from the garden with a broken stem provided an opportunity to create something different from the usual portrayal of flowers by cutting it very carefully to reveal the complex structure of the petals and stamens inside and the soft fibrous nature of the stem that supports it.

Flowers have always been one of my favourite subjects because of their beauty and the complexity of their design, my favourites are probably Orchids but there are far too many to choose just one species.

In The Journal this week...

Discover more about:

photo papers

The Monday Picture

One image and the background story.
This photo was taken with the
Fujifilm X-T2 & XF16-55mm f2.8 R LM WR lens

Until next Monday have a great week.

Murray
murrayaidlaw.com

*the Monday
Picture*